R E P O R T
OF THE
SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE,
FOR THE YEAR
ENDING MARCH 8, 1875.

---

The Superintending School Committee respectfully present the following Report.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

The Summer Term was taught by Miss Hattie J. Hildreth, of Cornish. I found here three very essential properties towards a successful school. A wide-awake, practical teacher, a pleasant school-room, and punctual attendance of scholars. The recitations of the different classes were good. The reading and spelling would do credit to scholars of more advanced years. Length of school 10 weeks. No. scholars 8.

The Fall Term was taught by Miss Eliza L. Whitaker, with good success. Length of school 8 weeks. No. scholars 8.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

Miss Lizzie K. Gallop kept the Summer Term of 10 weeks. No. scholars 12. A little more energy on the part of the teacher was necessary for a successful school. Yet I think Miss Gallop labored conscientiously for the good of her pupils. A few roguish boys will turn the scale of a school the wrong way, unless promptly and rightly dealt with.

Which scale tended the right direction under the management of Miss Mary A. Freeman, who took charge of the Winter Term of 12 weeks. Miss Freeman is one among the favored few whose calling as a teacher is perceptible by the management and deportment of her school. Teacher and scholars worked together in harmony. Some very fine scholars here. In Writing this school bears off the palm by the neatness and evident pains taken. Natural History was among the studies. No. scholars 16.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

The Summer and Winter Terms, of 11 and 10 weeks, were taught by Mrs. Frances A. Hyde, of Lebanon, an experienced and faithful teacher. Success in all things was the aim of both teacher and pupils. In scholarship this ranks among the first in town. Algebra and Physiology were among the studies pursued. No. scholars, Summer Term 13, Winter 15.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

This District has had three terms of school, 35 weeks in all, taught by Miss Martha E. Westgate, whose past experience as a successful teacher is too well known for comment. The examination at the close of the Summer Term spoke well for all concerned. Quite a number of citizens were present and expressed their encouragements to teacher and pupils. In the Fall and Winter Terms good advancement was made in all the studies. The greatest fault here is the irregularity of attendance. No teacher can do justice to themselves, or their pupils, without regular attendance. Parents, you are held responsible for this. In this school there are some No. 1 scholars. Algebra and Physical Geography were studied. No. scholars, Summer Term 32, Fall and Winter Terms about 40.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

Summer and Winter Terms, of 10 weeks each, were taught by Miss Martha E. Ladiew. This school is far below what it should be, and with all respect to the citizens of the District, I would ask you the cause? Is it because your interest in your school is below what it should be? Visit your school, friends, and mark the results. I noticed communications between the scholars, which ought not to be allowed, and too much of an undertone in recitations. There are a few instances of commendable scholarship. No. scholars, Summer Term 13, Winter Term 16.

DISTRICT NO. 6.

Miss Lottie F. Torrey made her first attempt at teaching and spent 12 weeks of Summer profitably to herself and pupils. The pupils were young and very irregular. This District should contrive some way to have more school. Board and fuel would be quite an item if donated by the District; and a little more interest on the part of the parents would lessen the number of absent and tardy marks on the Register. No. scholars 11.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

The Summer Term, of 8 weeks, was taught by Miss Mary E. Bean, who faithfully labored to discharge her duty to those under her care, and her labors were rewarded by the respect and love of her pupils. Good attendance was shown by the Register. No. scholars 23.

The Winter Term, of 12 weeks, was taught by Mr. Chas. Baker, who labored for a good school and succeeded admirably. This school has many draw-backs. First, but not the least, an unfit school-room, this cold Winter, has made it decidedly uncomfortable. Those upon the wall seats would suffer with cold, (as your Committee can testify,) while those nearer the stove must suffer with heat. Consequently, changing of seats cannot be avoided, which causes more noise and confusion than would otherwise be. Good progress was made under these unfavorable circumstances. No. scholars 38.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

The Summer Term was commenced by Miss Linna A. Talbot, but left after two days for reasons best known to herself, when Miss Marion Westgate, one of our best qualified teachers, possessing not only knowledge itself, but the faculty of imparting it to others, took charge of the school, a term of 12 weeks. Under her management there was shown at the close of the school the greatest improvement. No District need fear the result with Miss Westgate at the helm. No. scholars 13.

James F. Sanderson taught the Winter School, of 12 weeks. A fair advancement was made in all studies pursued; not quite that life and energy manifested desirable in recitations. Mr. Sanderson's ability and strength would be called forth to his advantage in a larger school. No. scholars 12.

DISTRICT NO. 9.

The Summer Term of school was the largest in town, numbering 46 scholars. Miss Ella M. Davis took charge of the school for the term of 12 weeks. Her first step was to organize the school for work. Order was as nearly perfect as we are accustomed to see and the instruction was very careful and accurate. Miss Davis proves herself to be one of our best teachers. The scholars deserve praise for the advancement made. The Grammar Department, Winter Term of 12 weeks, was taught by Ora C. Davis, who is a firm believer in Heaven's first law, order, which was maintained. When finding that kind words and gentle means failed, he applied the rod; consequently, a few, rather than to obey, left school. Parents should not blame teachers for doing what they fail to do. Other than two instances the school proved very pleasant and profitable. The Writing Books were commendable, ranking next best in town. At the closing examination the school did well. The teacher's aim was not to see how much but how well they could do. The Primary Department was placed under the charge of Miss Davis, and, as heretofore, with good results. The Reading, Spelling, Writing and Arithmetic lessons were praiseworthy for so young scholars, numbering 26 between 8 and 13 years. A number of citizens were present at the closing examinations. This District have repaired their school buildings the past Summer and Autumn at an expense of about $450 00, making some very pleasant and convenient school-rooms.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

Summer Term, of 12 weeks, kept by Kate I. Colby. No. Scholars 3. The number of perfect lessons reported by the teacher was 98 per cent., which speaks well for the school.

The Fall Term, of 12 weeks, was taught by Miss Hattie Dyer, of Lebanon. The examination at the close of the school was a success to teacher and pupils, and a rare treat to parents and friends present. I noticed an expression on the face of our friend, Col. Colby, who was present, seeming to say, "beat this if you can," and taking into consideration the age of the pupils it would be hard. Encourage them on, Col. No. scholars 4.

DISTRICT NO. 11.

One Term, of 16 weeks, taught by Willie Wood. His first attempt. As the school is still in session I cannot give you a full report. When I visited the school I found Mr. Wood to be at home in the school-room, and a profitable school. No. scholars 8.

DISTRICT NO. 12.

The Summer Term was commenced by Miss Hellen M. Hough, of Lebanon, but after two weeks left on account of ill health. The rest of the term, 8 weeks, was under the care of Miss Linna A. Talbot. The school appeared well, but a little more energy and ambition on the part of both teacher and scholars would improve their recitations greatly. No. of scholars 16.

The Winter Term, of 8 weeks, was taught by Miss Eliza L. Whitaker, who seemed to labor for a good school. A fair advancement was made on the part of some scholars, but as a whole, not quite what it should be. Some dissatisfaction was noticed, which is very unpleasant and damaging to any school. It is impossible for any teacher to accomplish much against "wind and tide." My advice to the citizens of this District is to "Bury the Hatchet," procure good teachers and support them; then you will see your school rising towards what it should be. No. scholars 19.

DISTRICT NO. 13.

The Summer Term, of 6 weeks, was taught by Miss Hattie B. Dyer, who had her first experience as a teacher. Her efforts were eminently successful, possessing those qualities which fit her for an efficient teacher. No. scholars 8.

The Winter Term, of 11 weeks, was taught by Mrs. Emma J. Sargent, of Enfield, an experienced and faithful teacher. She had a pleasant school, and good advancement was made in all the studies. The first class in Arithmetic equal to any in town. No. scholars 18.

DISTRICT NO. 14.

One Term of school, and was commenced by Miss Mary E. Case, her first attempt. She lacked knowledge of the best method to manage a school and gave it up, after a trial of 7 weeks, when Mrs. G. W. Soule, of Lebanon, an experienced and thorough teacher, finished the term, giving good satisfaction to all concerned. This is a backward school. No. scholars 13.

DISTRICT NO. 15

May consider itself among the favored few in securing the services of so efficient a teacher as Miss Mary E. Chellis, who labored faithfully 12 weeks in Autumn. All classes did well. The first classes in Reading and Arithmetic were very good. The scholarship of this school is very uneven, making many classes for so small a school. Miss Chellis won the love and esteem of her pupils. No. scholars 10.

DISTRICT NO. 16.

Miss Charlotte Nichols, of Lebanon, was procured to stay here 8 weeks in Summer. No. scholars 3 little girls. Of course they learned.

The Fall Term, of 8 weeks, was taught by Miss M. Millie Miller, who labored for the good of her pupils. No. scholars 9.

I understand there has been some talk in this District of the necessity of a better school-house. If kind Providence should favor them with a rain-storm when they have their Annual Meeting it might prove beneficial to them.

Writing has been attended to in every school but one. The books show generally good improvement and have been carefully kept. A change in text books is needed. They should be reduced to the lowest possible number, and by all means a uniformity. Parents, don't buy books unless you know they are the kinds wanted.

The foregoing is a careful statement of the condition and progress of the several schools as they appeared to your Committee on visiting them, and evidently great pains have been taken by the Prudential Committee to employ teachers of known ability, and with few exceptions they have been first-class, performing their labors faithfully and meriting the thanks of their patrons.

In submitting my Report I would express my thanks for the respect and deference shown me by teachers, scholars and parents. Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH DAVIS, Superintending School Committee.
